Supplement No. 3: May 2025

This replaces all previous supplements

Further updates are available, as they come in, via the Cruising Notes page of the Pilotage Foundation website at www.rccpf.org.uk/Pilotage-Notices

Caution

Whilst the Royal Cruising Club Pilotage Foundation, the author and the publishers have used reasonable endeavours to ensure the accuracy of the contents of this book, it contains selected information and thus is not definitive. It does not contain all known information on the subject in hand and should not be relied upon alone for navigational use: it should only be used in conjunction with official hydrographical data. This is particularly relevant to the plans, which should not be used for navigation. The Royal Cruising Club Pilotage Foundation, the author and the publishers believe that the information which they have included is a useful aid to prudent navigation, but the safety of a vessel depends, ultimately, on the judgment of the skipper, who should access all information, published or unpublished. The information provided in this book may be out of date and may be changed or updated without notice. The Royal Cruising Club Pilotage Foundation cannot accept liability for any error, omission or failure to update such information. To the extent permitted by law, the Royal Cruising Club Pilotage Foundation, the author and the publishers do not accept liability for any loss and/or damage, howsoever caused, that may arise from reliance on information contained in these pages.

This supplement contains amendments and corrections sent in by a number of cruising yachtsmen and women, in addition to those culled from official sources such as Notices to Mariners.

Positions and waypoints

All positions and waypoints are to datum WGS84. They are included to help locating place, features and transits. Do not rely on them alone for safe navigation.

Bearings and lights

Any bearings are given in degrees True and from seaward. The characteristics of lights may be changed during the lifetime of this book and they should be checked against the latest edition of the UK Admiralty List of Lights.

Note Where lights have been modified in the text do please remember to alter them on the appropriate plan(s).

This supplement is cumulative and the latest information is marked in blue.

I INTRODUCTION

The place and the people

Currency

Except in large towns or cities, there are now few banks or ATMs. Supermarkets etc will usually give cash back.

Credit cards

If a credit card is used for fuel, 1,500NOK may be locked (reserved by the operator) for up to several hours. This is usually freed the same day, but it can be a problem for later expenditure that day.

Telephone and internet

Mobile phones

Add Update on roaming From 1 June 2023, a cap on mobile roaming charges between Norway and the United Kingdom allows "Roam like Home" on UK and EU/EEA registered phones.

Medical services

Post-Brexit, UK nationals cannot use a UK-issued European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) or Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC) to get medical treatment in Norway. For residents of the EU/EEA and Switzerland, the EHIC is valid for healthcare in Norway on the same terms as Norwegian nationals, but not in Svalbard. Residents of some other countries may have specific entitlements by agreement. British nationals can however receive unplanned urgent or emergency medical care, as this is available to all visitors to the country, on the same terms as Norwegian nationals: free emergency ambulance or air ambulance transport to hospital; free hospital treatment including essential medication; charges when not in hospital for prescriptions, GP or specialist appointments (160-395NOK, February 2023), tests and some specialist treatments.

Emergency medical assistance: dial 113 and ask for an ambulance.

Non-emergency: call 116 117 to contact the closest Public Emergency Room (legevakt; 24 hours).

Entry to Norway

Add As Norway is one of the Schengen countries, it is bound by Schengen entry and passport requirements, limiting visits to 90 out of 180 days (this time can be spent in one country, or shared between several, for instance 30 days in Norway, 60 days in one or more other Schengen countries). The 90-day limit currently (January 2024) applies to the UK and all EU countries.

Add The introduction of a new electronic ETIAS (European Travel Information and Authorisation System) visa waiver for entry to Schengen and EU countries has again been delayed, most recently to 2025. An ETIAS visa or visa waiver will be compulsory for all non-Schengen/EU visitors to the area, including Norway. For updates see <http://etias.com/> Until ETIAS is introduced, visas or visa waivers are not needed for residents of the UK, any Schengen or EU country, N and S America, Australia, New Zealand. Visitors from other countries can check whether a visa is needed on udi.no/en/want-to-apply

Unless coming from another Schengen country, non-Norwegians must check in on arrival and departure unless continuing to another country in Schengen. Passport 'date of issue' must be less than 10 years before entering and valid for at least 3 months after the date of leaving (which may mean 6 months from date of issue). Passport stamps are used to check compliance with the 90-day visa-free limit. For information about where passports can be stamped, contact the police district in the area of arrival (not all local police stations are able to do entry passport checks).

Add The EES (Entry Exit System) and ETIAS (European Travel Information and Authorisation System)

Both systems are aimed at increased European and travellers' security and safety. EES is currently expected to be operational in October 2025, and ETIAS in the last quarter of 2026.

travel-europe.europa.eu

The EES will be an automated IT system for registering non EU/Schengen travellers electronically, collecting and registering facial image and fingerprints of visa-free and visa-required travellers when they enter one of the 29 Schengen countries for a short stay (max 90 days in 180 day period). Once this comes into effect, it is assumed that passport stamping, which is now mandatory for non-Schengen/EU visitors to Norway, will no longer be needed. No action will be required from travellers before they start their trip, as registration will be done every time travellers cross external borders and will replace the manual stamping of passports.

Add Entering Norway by sea

The following are listed as official entry ports. In some cases there are several places with the same name, and counties or area are not specified in the list. See Police Districts, below, for further information. Pleasure boats coming from outside the Schengen area should whenever possible enter a port which is not a border crossing point. If this is not possible, the nearest local port authority should be contacted and will contact the nearest official border crossing point. It seems likely that once the EES comes into force the current requirement to have passports stamped on entry and exit from the Schengen area will no longer apply.

Official entry ports

Bergen, Kristiansand, Stavanger, Sandefjord, Langesund, Oslo, Larvik, Rosendal, Flesland, Flåm, Selje, Sogndal, Vardetangen, Mjømna, Sollibotn, Rysjedalsvika, Lavik, Nordeid, Vik, Balestrand, Leikanger, Askvoll, Florø,

Extended cruising in Norway: winter lay-up

Add Storage undercover, especially in heated halls, needs to be booked well in advance. Some insurance companies may prefer a boat to be left out of the water, preferably in a hall, and to be regularly checked by someone responsible for it. Most of the websites are in Norwegian only: look for 'Vinterlagring' or 'Lagring'. An application form for temporary storage must be filled in requesting permission to leave a boat for one winter; permission will then usually be granted, on re-application, for a second winter, provided the boat is not used by the owner outside the official post-Brexit time scale (90 days, including total time in all Schengen and EU countries), and not at all by a Norwegian resident. Apply on form: lagring-av-utenlandsk-fritidsfartoy/

Add Application to Norwegian Customs for permission to keep a boat for one year from the time it entered the country should be made before you leave the country. In total, a boat may usually be stored in Norway for two consecutive years. If you need to leave the boat for longer, you may apply to Norwegian Customs before the original deadline expires. A boat that is left in Norway may not be used by others.
altinn.no/ui/Authentication/Selfidentified

The west and north coasts remain ice-free all winter, so boats can safely be left in the water, although inner waters in the fjords may freeze over. Opinions differ about whether a boat cover is necessary. If the boat is covered, the cover should be taut enough to prevent heavy deposits of snow collecting; if it is left uncovered, there should be someone available willing to shovel off heavy snow falls. In eastern Norway, along both the western and eastern coasts of the Skagerrak, and especially in the outer and inner Oslo Fjord, the water is likely to freeze (and the ice will often be thick enough for hiking and ski trails), and boats should only be left in the water where there is a bubbler or some other system to prevent the water close to the boat from freezing. Places where winter layup is possible, either afloat or ashore or under cover, possibly in a heated hall, are marked with a snowflake (❄) in the text, and are also listed in this supplement at the start of each chapter. It may also be possible to winter a boat in other yards or marinas, or even on a private dock by arrangement with the owner.

Transport and crew changes

International ferries

Add Eemshaven, Holland to Kristiansand.
This no longer operates.

Internal ferries

Nautical publications

Den norske los

Volumes 1 – 7 PDF downloads are all 2018 and are not being updated. Chart extracts included in Vol.9, Svalbard and Jan

Mayen (the only one in English), were updated in 2020. The printed books are no longer published, but the PDFs can still be downloaded, website: kartverket.no/eng/at-sea, scroll down to 'Historical editions of den norske los'. Den norske los Norwegian; for English, select 'Language' in 'Meny'

DNL digital version

All except Volumes 1 (Alminnelige opplysninger - General information, PDF 2028) and 7 (Svalbard and Jan Mayen, PDF 2018, plans 2020, English) have been replaced by a new digital version of Farvannsbeskrivelsen (sailing directions), which does not yet include all information included in the books. English version. dnl.kartverket.no

Tide tables and water level forecasts

Updated kartverket PDF for the whole set of tide tables is no longer available. Tidal information is available as PDFs for individual places for a year and can be downloaded at www.kartverket.no/en/at-sea/se-havniva.

Tide charts can also be found on www.tide-forecast.com

Add Paying mooring fees There are now fewer harbours with honesty boxes for cash payments, and more now use electronic systems, which may temporarily block an additional sum on credit or debit cards.

GoMarina App Widely used for marina bookings and payment (double check port selection). Sends a PIN code for facilities and for parking meter electricity points.

VIPP app Increasingly the default berth booking and mooring app but requires a Norwegian bank account. This may change and should not be an excuse for not paying. In harbours where it is the only way to pay electronically, it is usually possible to pay in cash in a local shop, or by asking a Norwegian to take cash in return for paying on Vipp. Bank transfer payments are possible in some places.

Add Prohibition of sewage discharge

Since July 2024, there has been a ban on discharging sewage from boats into the water anywhere in the Oslo Fjord from all except vessels officially registered as historic recreational craft. This includes both the inner and outer Oslo Fjord, so anywhere N of the Torbjørnskær light (E) and Færder light (W). There is no official requirement for leisure boats to have holding tanks, but for those that do it is not always easy to find where to pump out.

These regulations apply to all recreational craft with any form of toilet (including installed, pump, with/without holding tank and portable toilets, and buckets used as toilets). Most marinas and small harbours with mooring facilities have toilets on shore for use of boat crews, and small natural harbours often have simple toilet huts (take your own toilet paper). An increasing number of harbours already have discharge facilities, for which there may be a queue and a fee; others are likely to follow to catch up with the need created by the new ruling. Now part of Ulstein Kommune, Borgarøya was a trading centre in its own right from the early 17th century, with c.17 trade and residential buildings and barns. From 1872 its trade was gradually taken over by businesses in Ulsteinvik. In 1906, Borgarøya was bought by Hans B. Osnes, 'a capable and energetic man - full of ideas and action' whose family farmed and who traded in fish, primarily herring and cod. Since Ulstein Kommune took over the old trading post in 1983, major restoration work has been carried out on the main buildings.

Sailing in Svalbard

Cruising permits and regulations

Add Applications to cruise in Svalbard should be made at least a month before the planned arrival, with separate requirements for general approval, firearms approval, and cover for SAR through insurance or bank guarantee; the amount to be covered will be communicated once the initial application has been made.

Renting firearms is covered in Section 3 of the Sysselmester's guidelines, and may take several weeks to process. Proof of firearms competency such as a European Firearms Certificate or an official firearms course which should include polar bear tactics.

A licence to buy duty free alcohol in Longyearbyen is only granted for stays of 30 or more days. For shorter stays, if flying into Longyearbyen, a boarding card will give access to duty free at the Vinmonopol.

Add Svalbard, including Bjørnøya, is not a member of Schengen. However, foreign citizens with a visa requirement for the Schengen Area must have a Schengen visa when travelling to and from Svalbard via mainland Norway. It's important to ensure that you get a double-entry visa so you can return to the Schengen Area (mainland Norway) after your stay in Svalbard. The electronic visa-waiver ETIAS (European Travel Information and Authorisation System) due to be introduced in 2024 will be required for any non-Schengen or EU residents who travel to or from Svalbard via Norway.

Ice and glaciers

Add Svalbard is one of the fastest-warming areas on earth. Its glaciers are experiencing significant retreat through rapid melting over recent years. At the same time, changes in water pressure and thermal conditions have caused sudden surges in glacier movement in approx. a third of the archipelago's glaciers. This in turn affects ice loss, sea level, and ecosystems
